

Case Study: Morgan Sindall

Business Challenge:

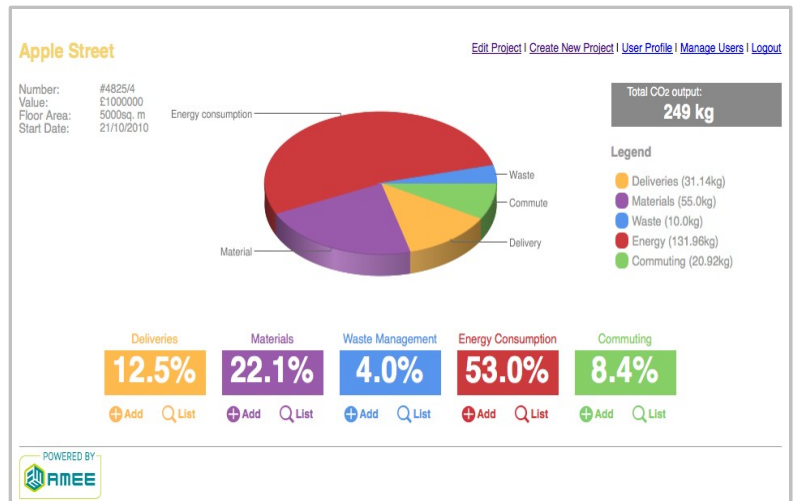

Morgan Sindall Group plc is a leading UK construction and regeneration group with a turnover of £2.2 billion, employing over 7,000 people and operating in the public and commercial sectors. Morgan Sindall operates a large Fit Out division specializing in refurbishment and fit out in the office, retail, leisure, education and hotel sectors. This division needed a solution to meet customer demand for sustainability disclosure on their projects in order to account for emissions and accurately represent them to end clients. As a result, Morgan Sindall wanted a light-weight application that would enable their employees to quickly and accurately account for emissions of their projects.

Solution:

AMEE developed a lightweight AMEEapp called the AMEE Refurbishment Footprinter. The app enabled Morgan Sindall project managers to quickly measure the footprint of any project, benchmark future projects, and enable footprint targets to be set across their portfolio. The solution is a SaaS application, so available by subscription on demand, and supported by the AMEE platform so the content is always up-to-date. For more information read Morgan Sindall's short case study here.

Results:

- SaaS solution supported by detailed emissions data for construction projects.
- Highly intuitive and visual interface requiring very little training to use and no set-up.
- Emissions tracking and graphical reporting across business activities.
- Ability to derive key metrics such as CO2 / square meter or CO2 / unit cost.
- Ability to report internally or externally.
- Benchmarking and target setting features for project management.

Why Morgan Sindall AMEE:

Save Time: Morgan Sindall wanted a low cost option for quickly getting their teams reporting emissions. AMEE not only delivered the app quickly but also created a intuitive interface that requires no set-up or training;

Accuracy: Built on the AMEE Platform, the application sources data from the most up-to-date standards ensuring you will never have to restate your reporting.

Sustainability: The app helps Morgan Sindall confidently maintain and deliver on its sustainability pledge to customers while maintaining adherence to regulations.
